Going next level

Farm Trans is a family-owned logistics partner with strong roots in agricultural transport. Since 1987, we have grown from an agricultural bulk transport specialist into a fully integrated logistics partner.

Today, we support our customers throughout the entire supply chain, from farm to end customer. By combining transport, logistics, warehousing and IT, we work every day to build future-proof food supply chains together with our partners.

Farm Trans is driven by innovation, digitalisation and continuous investment in IT, sustainability and our people. Taking logistics to the next level.

Your global supply chain partner in Agri & Food

Farm

Raw materials, such as potatoes, are grown and harvested on the farm. We collect them directly from the field and ensure safe transport to the factory.

Bulk

Each year, Farm Trans visits hundreds of farmers across Europe, the Middle East and Africa to collect agricultural products, including potatoes, onions and other products. Every day, our trucks and drivers are on the road, transporting these products to factories for processing.

Factory

At the factory, raw materials are processed into products, such as French fries. We ensure the right quantities arrive on time and in perfect condition.

Temperature controlled

Each day, our drivers collect processed products from various warehouses, including our dedicated facility in Lommel, and ensure reliable delivery to distributors and customers worldwide via road and water transport.

Connected Services

Control tower and supply chain management for all logistics services worldwide, coordinated through our offices and supported by data connectivity and data-driven solutions.

Warehousing

We offer flexible storage and cross-docking solutions. With smart inventory management, goods move efficiently through our facilities. By minimising storage time and optimising flow, we reduce costs, speed up deliveries and lower environmental impact.

End Customer

We deliver finished products to the end customer, ensuring complete, undamaged and on-time delivery to support seamless production or sales.
